We are ONE

We are all connected and interdependent. There is a plasmic substance that connects us, like a glue. What happens to the one, happens to the many. What happens to the many, happens to the one.

We can choose a different future

There are the resources that there are. How we choose to perceive them determines our future path. There is plenty for everyone with balance.

A.If we choose scarcity then some will become greedy and hoard, excluding the many. There will be strife, suffering and destruction.

B.If we choose abundance, there will be plenty for everyone with balance. There will be sharing and peace with harmonious, beneficial and generative exchange.

Sacred reciprocity

There is a truth in nature. It is sacred reciprocity. When it is engaged, there are resources and nourishment for everyone. The more who participate, the more that is created.

We engage sacred reciprocity when we align ourselves with nature and treat others (including all races, other species, kingdoms and life) with respect. All life is sacred.

This practice engages an electric current in the magnetic glue which connects us and as it moves back and forth amongst us, it generates energy.

This is the truth. This is a way to real change.

We are ONE!
There is plenty!
Sacred reciprocity!
